INNOVATIONS

- Well-equipped rapid response team to counter crimes in case they occur
- Periodic in-service-training and refresher courses for our staff
- One day off our guards to enable them regain their energy and strength
- There is a routine and well-structured procedure for changing guards on duty
- Our guards are disciplined enough to undertake any duty or responsibility
- Our guards do not run errands whilst at post
- Smart-looking and hardworking is our watch word
- Our guards are trained in fire safety and emergency evacuation techniques
- Our guards are trained to undertake first aid procedures
- Basic incentives and motivations are given to our staff for quality performance.

This compliments facilities/property management in delivering added value services to any contract including residential guarding

CORPORATE PROTECTION SECURITY

Corporate Protection Security operates 24/7 and in this case can act as a key holder. “Midnight callers” and “weekend callers” can certainly be an inconvenient experience to say the least. Health and safety plays a cardinal role here, where there may be a possibility of intruders still on site. CPS can take away those anxious moments so you can have your peaceful night sleep and weekend break.

We have developed procedures for conducting risk assessments to determine the precise risks that clients face in the routine delivery of their services. In some cases there are quite cursory visits. In others, they can take days, following a prescribed methodology and reporting matrix.

The company employs force of plain clothes security officers trained to combat customer and internal theft, they also assist in health and safety and the fire prevention auditing. The uniformed guards give reassurance to the customer and act as a deterrent to violent behavior. The very presence of a uniformed guard suggests a company is caring for both its customer and staff safety.

CPS is proud of its officers and is aimed at continuous development of loyalty and guarding force that takes pride in its work. In this CPS employees also feel like a member of their client’s team.
